Tasks

The Year 12 reading Pack contains reading about the different approaches in psychology and some of the key studies that you will learn about during the course. There is an activity to do on the key psychological approaches and some activities on the key studies once you have read through them.

How will this work be used in lessons?

Approaches in psychology are linked to all of the topics you study across the two years, therefore this is CORE knowledge.

The studies will be covered from September onwards, so this will give you a clear and concise head start into research experiments and how to start asking critical questions about how they are carried out and the implications the research findings might have.
