

Drama & Theatre Studies (Eduqas)

The best way to prepare for A level Drama is to watch as much live theatre as possible.

Below is a list of different ways that you are able to do this.

- Digital Theatre plus - lots of incredible productions and interviews with actors, directors and designers.
Type Digital Theatre plus into Google – click on it and login.
Login – digitaltheatre@swchs.net
Password – digitalsaffron1
- Globe Player films—Shakespearian productions, available to rent or download.
- Go to the theatre!

Reading a variety of plays is also extremely useful to develop your understanding of genres and performance devices. Anything will be useful! Your local library would be a great place to start looking.

You would also find the following Practitioner books incredibly useful to read before the course begins.

The Complete Stanislavsky Toolkit: Amazon.co.uk: Bella ...

The Complete Brecht Toolkit: Amazon.co.uk: Stephen Unwin ..

The Frantic Assembly Book of Devising Theatre | Frantic ...

Happy Live Theatre watching and practitioner and play reading.

For further information please contact:

Mrs H Benjamin (Drama Dept)

Email: HBenjamin@swchs.net

